THE MILITARY TOURNAMENT IN CHICAGO

Famous "Oil Queen of California"

...A Hickman Girl—Born and Reared in This City...

Hickman has produced a number of men who have been successful in more ways than one, and their names have become widespread with the masses of their struggles; but Hickman has not been lacking in successful daughters—and from a financial standpoint, few of her men have rivaled Mrs. Mary A. Summers, the "Oil Queen of California."

Mrs. Summers is a daughter of William McLuteboon, formerly a merchant of this city, and for a number of years taught music in this section. A quarter of a century ago, she and her husband, who was a carpenter, left for Los Angeles, where they followed their respective vocations until the oil boom.

Today Mrs. Summers is the largest individual oil producer in the world. Along with her own money she produces a thousand barrels a day, and in addition she buys enough oil to supply contracts aggregating $2,500,000 a year.

When oil was discovered in the vicinity of Los Angeles, Mrs. Summers had in the bank $700, earned by teaching music. She put this and a like amount furnished by another into an oil well. And it went in so deep she donated over getting it out. With it went $1,800 more, for her credit was good.

Bad luck was followed by more bad luck, and the climax came when casing and tools went crashing to the bottom of the well. Only the man drilling the hole was left on top. Day after day Mrs. Summers stood in the hot sun by that well. Night after night, by the light of a flaring torch, she hovered over it, as if it were a sick babe's cradle. The prospect was dreary, but Mrs. Summers had pluck and she knew there was oil in the well and more than $3,900 worth of hardware.

At last the hardware came out of the hole, and then the oil, and Mrs. Summers, encouraged, went on boring wells until she found herself $10,000 in debt with only her music teacher's fees to pay the bills.

"When I found myself $10,000 in debt," says Mrs. Summers, "I thought if I ever got that paid and as much more in the bank I would be glad to quit. But when I got that much I found that interest on it would not pay the expenses of a family of seven, so I had to keep on."

All told she has bored 155 wells. In the old days she had a room in her home set aside for business; to-day she has a suite of three offices in one of the biggest business blocks in Los Angeles.

Change in Firm.

The firm of Nalfelt Bros. Dry Goods Co., one of the leading dry goods and clothing stores of this city, will dissolve by mutual consent of the three partners about the 20th of this month.

Instead of the one firm, three will be the outcome of the dissolution.

S. M. Nalfelt will continue the same line of goods in the west room of their present quarters, except that he will carry a larger and more select line of ladies' apparel and dress goods. Miss Edna Glover, now of Union City, will be employed again in his store; also two other clerks.

Felix Nalfelt, senior member of the old firm, will continue a similar line in the east room of the Buchanan building; at least, such is the present arrangement.

Alex Nalfelt is building a nice brick store building in West Hickman, and as soon as this is finished, he will put in a stock of groceries; possibly including a small stock of dry goods.

Here's wishing all the new concern success.

Marriage Licenses

The following were granted license to marry in Obion County last week:

H. O. Shell and Bulah Tucker.
T. N. Tankersley and Miss Obion Fox.
Clair Magnus and Eunice Jones.

Misses Alex and Hazel Adams are in Chicago, where the former is being treated by a specialist for lung trouble. Miss Alex was until recently employed in the post office here, and was forced to give up this position on account of her health. Her parents are thinking seriously of moving out west where it is hoped their daughter will be benefited by change of climate.

Much alarm is felt over the recurrence of pellagra, a new and little understood malady, in two of the asylums. Supt. R. L. Willis, of the Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, has ordered the use of all corn products food stopped pending investigation of seventeen cases of pellagra disclosed there. Supt. Willis says that several other patients show symptoms of the disease. Supt. Slight states that seven fully developed cases are under inspection at the Western Kentucky asylum for the Insane.

Good Picture of Gen. H. A. Tyler, of Hickman

This picture was taken at Tupelo, Miss., while Gen. Tyler was attending the anniversary services of the battle of Harrisburg, in which the first man killed was a member of his company. In the picture are also Hon. Geo. T. Mitchell and wife, at whose home Gen. Tyler was a guest.

Fulton County Fair.

Our bustling neighbors in the east end are advertising the Fulton fair extensively.

We are glad to see such an organization in the county, and our citizenship should co-operate in making it a success. Fulton county is large enough—great enough to have a good fair. The worthy citizens of Fulton who are backing this enterprise are doing everything possible to entertain their visitors, and an excellent program has been prepared.

The dates for the fair are Aug. 29-30-31 and Sept. 1-2. This will be the first fair in the county in many years. Make arrangements to attend. Premium lists, etc., can be had by addressing the secretary Fulton County Fair Association.

J. J. Jones, Ed Austin, Will Walker, Bob Baker and Erwin Sheffield went to Hickman Monday where they have contracted to build a nice residence. —Union City Commercial.

Convention Saturday.

Throughout the state county Democratic conventions will be held at the various county seats next Saturday, at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of instructing delegates to a state platform convention to be held at Louisville on the following Tuesday.

The Democrats of Fulton county, who are in favor of better government, should make it a point to be present on this occasion. As heretofore stated, the most important plank of the platform will deal with the liquor question. And this one plank is of sufficient importance to command the attention of every citizen. It is a safe bet that the liquor interests will have their forces on the ground early and in readiness to carry out their program.

It is the privilege of the citizens of the county to say what instruction these delegates shall have, but if you fail to take an interest, the politicians will do it for you.

Mixed by the story sent out from Paducah in which it was stated that the railroad from Hickman to Clinton was under construction, a gentleman from New York was here yesterday to see if he could not get a contract for grading. His firm, he told us, has a large number of teams, graders, shovels and so forth and makes a business of railroad grading. He was rather surprised to find that there was nothing doing here in the way of railroad construction. He went from here to Jackson, Tenn., to see if the road from Jackson to Dyersburg is likely to be built soon.—Clinton Gazette.

Upton Sinclair, a Socialist author who violated the Sunday laws at Wilmington, Del., decided to take an imprisonment of 18 hours rather than pay a $4 fine, and was put to breaking rock in the city workhouse. His offense was playing baseball and tennis on Sunday. Nine other men took the same punishment.

A good washing machine costs from five to eight dollars, but a washboard can be bought for twenty-five cents. This kind of economy gives a good many men a chance to look for a second wife.

There is a demand for good boys. The boy who is honest, earnest and industrious, will not be long out of a job. There are lots of prosperous business men, merchants and mechanics, who are constantly on the outlook for good boys. They do not look for them on the streets, however, but in some sort of employment. They have no use for an idle boy. He is too apt to make an idle man.

The difference between good and bad mothers, is so vast and so far reaching that it is no exaggeration to say that the good mothers of this generation are building the homes of the next generation, and the bad mothers are building the prisons. For out of families nations are made; and if the father be the head and the hands of a family, the mother is the heart. No office in the world is so honorable as hers, no priesthood so holy, no influence so sweet and strong and lasting.

There are none of us so poor but we can train a few roses on the humble wall and their scent and beauty will long be remembered, and many a boy instead of going to loaf upon the public highway will linger at home among the flowers. Moral degradation always begins at home.

What beautiful and tender associations cluster thick around the word "memory." The thought of it is a very shield; the name of it has a spell to call back the wanderer from the path of vice, and far away where the myrtle blossoms and the palm trees wave, and the ocean sleeps upon coral strands, to the exile's fond fancy it clothes the naked rock, or stormy shore, or barren moor, or wild height and mountain with charms he weeps to think of and longs once more to see.

Encouragement is something we naturally look for. A little praise, a word of hope or a cheerful smile—something for the hungry soul to grasp and the weary mind to rest upon, as we climb the toilsome mountain of life. How many poor hearts have sunk into despondency, when a little encouragement has reassured them. The soldier looks for it on the field of battle; it is the cheering voice of his leader that urges him on through the danger of death and crowns the day with victory.

Fine clothes—and costly jewelry do not convert a ruffian into a gentleman any more than a stovepipe hat and a cigar make a man of a monkey. A few smart, well-learned quotations from eminent authors will not convey the impression that you are conversant with literature. You are apt to become scorched in the flames you kindle, for your literary companions will soon sound your shallow depths and your ignorance will appear more glaring than before.

Whatever place your ambition prompts you to select as your field for future labor, however lofty and difficult of access the height may be, fit yourself for it by slow and laborious process of study and toil. Begin at the very bottom round of the ladder, lay the foundation firm and secure; build your structure of future greatness upon a thorough knowledge of your life work in all its bearings. In fact, be what you seem, and seem to be nothing but what you are.

Let us not wait for chances for doing good to come to us, but to go out to meet them. Too many beautiful opportunities escape us otherwise. As charity begins at home, so should love. We don't care much for either the charity or love that would leave its nearest to wait for duty or affection and go out into the world to work. We find it a delightful plan to make each one of our home-folks happy about some one thing each day of our life—plan little surprises for their delight, do little deeds for them, brighten a dull hour, or congratulate them upon some achievement of their own.

Money is a good thing, especially in these times, but there is something much more valuable. It is character, the consciousness of a pure and honorable life. This should be a young man's first aim to preserve at any cost.

Sometimes the hasty word has been spoken, the sharp, snappish word been carelessly uttered in the home circle. The true wife's heart so often bleeds at the bitter, thoughtless, but cutting word of a husband. When she is gone to heaven, and he "weeps o'er her bier" he will remember it.

Men and women don't need to swing clubs to threaten home concord. The husband, armed with a snore, and the wife who carries waspish tongue, are just as well compared for death-dealing battle, as though they pounded each other with base-ball bats.

The woman of today is a different being from the woman of fifty years ago. The shrinking, trembling, weeping heroines of Thackeray and Dickens have disappeared. It is better that it is so. Not only has the woman of today shaken off those old-time weaknesses, not only has she assumed a stern independence, which to some is well nigh disheartening, but she has made her determination known to the world, has waved defiance in our faces in the shape of certain signs and symbols which have a tendency to add emphasis to her emancipation.

Johnston-Duncan.

From the Enterprise, at Ripley, Tenn., we clip the following, which will be of interest to many of our readers:

"A wedding in which much affectionate interest centered was that of Miss Lillian Johnston and Mr. Austin Duncan which took place at the Methodist church in this city Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. For the occasion the church had been tastefully decorated, potted plants being used very effectively, presenting a beautiful scene as the bridal party stood for the ceremony. Miss Mary Johnston, a cousin of the bride, presided at the organ using Mendelssohn's wedding march for the processional and Lohengrin for recessional. Dr. H. H. Johnston, uncle of the bride, said the impressive ceremony which united their lives. The bride wore a going away suit of tan broadcloth, trimmed in Persian lace, with accessories to correspond, and carried a lovely bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride is the youngest daughter of the late John Anderson Johnston, than whom no more princely gentleman or worthy citizen ever presided in Lauderdale county. As a descendant of this noble citizen she inherited those queenly virtues which characterize womanhood in its most exalted state, and to her added rare accomplishments of mind and heart. Especially is she gifted in music, possessing a voice of exceptional quality and sweetness. As a member of the Methodist church and leader of the choir she will be greatly missed, by the denomination and also those who occupied a place in the congregation. On many occasions has she thrilled her hearers by the sweet music of her beautiful solos. In the social life of the town she was also a special favorite, and her presence was a joy and inspiration to any assembly.

Mr. Duncan is a native of Columbia, Mo., and a graduate of the law school of that place. For several years he has made Memphis his home. He is a gentleman of well rounded character and sterling business qualifications, and worthy of the splendid young woman whom he has claimed for a helpmate.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were recipients of a large number of presents, many of them costly and beautiful. They left on the 6:05 train for Memphis, where they will reside at Colonial Court."

Miss Johnston had charge of the music department in Hickman College year before last and won many friends while in this city. She is a sister of W. A. Johnston, of the Hickman Hardware Co.

Mr. Johnston and Miss Bonnie Carpenter, of this city, attended the wedding.

ASKS $150,000 DAMAGES

WOMAN SEEKS THIS AMOUNT IN SLANDER SUIT.

Annie Williamson Charges Clemens Eckhoff Referred to Her in Disrespectful Terms.

St. Louis, Aug. 8.—Charging that he defamed her character, Annie Williamson filed suit for $150,000 damages against Clemens Eckhoff, president of the Eckhoff Furniture company of Twenty-third and Branch streets.

The petition recites that Eckhoff, in the presence of Joseph Burke, July 26, 1911, shook his finger at the plaintiff and referred to her in disrespectful terms.

According to the petition, the plaintiff, as the result of the alleged defamation of character, "has suffered continuous and increasing extreme mental anguish and travail of soul," and also has fallen into disgrace and "great public contempt and ridicule" and has been "exposed to the public wrath and hatred," and "deprived of the public countenance and social intercourse of neighbors, friends and acquaintances."

She further alleges that she has been devastated and reduced to such a state of nervousness that she is almost a wreck.

PLAYING SUNDAY GAMES

Single Tax Colony Continues Sabbath Play Despite Sinclair's Threat.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 8.—Sunday baseball, tennis and golf flourished at Arden, the single tax colony, in spite of the ancient blue laws which prohibit the playing of games on Sunday.

Upton Sinclair, socialist and novelist, who served 18 hours in the workhouse, together with the Arden baseball nine, for violating this ancient statute upon the complaint of George Brown, who styles himself an anarchist, played tennis all the morning and then in the afternoon the Arden baseball team met defeat at the hands of the Chester team.

The threats of Sinclair, after he had served his workhouse sentence, that he was going to prosecute members of Wilmington's society not who played Sunday golf and tennis were not carried out.

LOTUS LILIES IN NORTH

Large Bed of Nile Flowers From Seeds Surviving Wreck Found in Wisconsin Lake.

Malden Rock, Wis., Aug. 8.—Lotus seeds, surviving, it is said, the wreck of a steamer carrying them on board, have grown into a large bed of lotus lilies at the head of Lake Pepin, furnishing, it is thought, the only specimens of the Egyptian lotus, the royal flower of the Nile, that are to be found in this country.

Scores of people from many places are gathering the fragrant blossoms and large quantities of them are being sent to the cities of the north-west.

Cellar Finds Man Dead.

St. Louis, Aug. 8.—When a friend called on Albert Douglass, 35 years old, a cab driver for the Donnelly Bros. Undertaking company, living at 1103 North Nueces street, he was unable to get a response to repeated knocks at the door. Summoning the landlady, Mrs. Anna Gilmore, he looked over the transom and saw Douglass lying on the bed. He had been dead several hours. An empty carbolic acid bottle was found in a pocket of the coat, and Douglass is supposed to have drained it. Mrs. Gilmore told the police Douglass was a sufferer from rheumatism.

Full Fledged Attorney.

Wm. H. Amberg, of Hickman, is now a full-fledged disciple of Blackstone and Kent, and with it, is probably the youngest lawyer in the state. He was examined at Murray, Monday, before a board presided over by Judge Hanberry, passed successfully and granted license to practice law in all courts of Kentucky.

Mr. Amberg is a son of Mrs. Alice Amberg and is one of the most popular young men of this city. He is a student of the well known law school at Ann Arbor, Mich., where he will graduate next year, and has before him the promise of a successful career. It is probable that he will hang out his shingle in Hickman. Congratulations, Bill.

Engagement Announced.

One of the prettiest parties ever given in Hickman was that given by Mrs. Findley T. Randle on last Friday afternoon, announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her sister, Miss Mabel Virginia Wilson, of Hickman and Mr. James Ross Cheshire of Nashville. To enjoy Mrs. Randle's hospitality and to learn this happy secret, were all the young society matrons of the city and the girl friends of this popular bride-to-be.

The design of the wedding, green and gold, was most artistically decorated. The entire lower floor of this lovely home was elaborately decorated with golden flowers, ferns and asparagus. Places at the card tables were drawn by hand-painted score cards in green and gold with tiny hearts and Cupids and good luck emblems of wishbones and horse shoe nestling among the flowers. Sandwiches and iced tea were served at the table upon the arrival of the guests.

The guests were later invited into the dining room, and each found at her place a ladyfinger, to which was tied a diamond engagement ring, and to her place card was attached a gold wishbone. The secret was out, even before the ribbons extending from each place to a large golden heart, hanging from the chandelier were pulled out bearing on the end a tiny golden heart, telling of the plans of the wedding—the time, the place and the attendants.

Ices in the form of Cupids with golden bows and arrows, and individual heartshaped cakes were served, after which a large silver loving cup was passed, and many were the clever toasts and good wishes for the long life and happiness of the bride, and regrets that her marriage will take her to a distance to live.

Bud Levi, a negro, was fined $5 and costs by Judge Naylor Tuesday. He had been having some fun in West Hickman and the judge wound up the celebration by the fine, which the negro was unable to pay, and is now a guest of Uncle Joe.

To own a home is one of the most cherished thoughts that is implanted within the human breast. The young man engaging in business in the city finds himself at some time calculating the amount necessary to begin payments upon property that will present a habitation for himself and those dependent upon him. In the country the tenant of the farm is awakening to the fact that by energy and saving he can purchase a small tract of land, build his home and know the proud independence of being a landowner and master of his own destiny. There is little need of this class in Kentucky seeking newer fields. In this great commonwealth the opportunity is always at hand, and especially in Fulton county. We may have some drawbacks, but on the whole, our soil and surroundings make the home-investment idea just a little better than the allurements of distant sections. There is not the slightest desire to discourage those who contemplate removal from the state, nor to depreciate the merits of other land but to awaken us to the blessings around us here, for dearest of all homes to Kentuckians is Kentucky.

A well known Hickman citizen said to a Courier reporter this week, "Hickman is the highest price town I ever lived in." He showed us in one instance where he was charged something over 300 per cent profit on a certain article by a local firm. He added, "My income will not justify me in paying such prices and in some instances there is no alternative but to patronize the mail order house." Outlandish prices in some cases are the cause of about $3,000 a month leaving Hickman. Everybody ought to obey the injunction, live and let live or do as you would be done by. It is all right to make money and all men should have an eye out for business and to make and save honestly. Hickman is not large enough yet to justify a regular skin game. There is such a thing as overdoing the thing. Charging a big price for little board or big rent for a small shack or a big stylish price for cheap shoddy goods, is either a thing of the past or future. The people will not stand that skin game long at a time. We hear people say why it costs more to live here than in Memphis and everything is higher than in Nashville. It that is so there is something wrong. There is no reason why it should be so. Why one fellow said, "I can live cheaper at a summer resort than in Hickman; another says, you can live cheaper at Hot Springs. Be careful and don't over reach and cork yourself. Don't dig too deep; people don't have to come here unless there is an attraction or inducement. It is a mistake to size a fellow up and try to take all he has got. Treat new comers right, show them the sources, advantages, inducements, treat them fairly then when they come they will be happy and contented. The people of Hickman are big hearted and clever but let us keep a sharp lookout and shun these wiles and mistakes, then we will have solid and lasting property.

Don't forget Democratic convention to be held at the courthouse in Hickman next Saturday. Nine delegates are to be selected and instructed to represent us in the Democratic platform convention to be held in Louisville, Tuesday. If any official notice has been given the people of Fulton county, we have failed to see it, but the convention will be held just the same. The gun-shoe brigade has already made out its slate of nine good men."

The Hickman Joint Stock Co. operated exclusively by negroes, has rounded out 20 years business, and have renewed their charter. Stock that sold originally for $25 a share is now worth almost $800. Amos Nichols has had charge of the business and this just goes to show that a negro can succeed if he will attend strictly to business. The company is capitalized at $3,000.

headache, biliousness, indigestion, rheumatism, pimples, blotches, yellow complexion, etc., are all signs of poisons in your blood. These poisons should be driven out, or serious illness may result. To get rid of them, use

Mrs. J. H. Easler, of Spartanburg, S. C., says: "I had sick headache, for years. I felt bad most of the time, I tried Thedford's Black-Draught, and now I feel better than when I was 16 years old." Your druggist sells it, in 25 cent packages.

Buggy Stolen!

Taken from my home 7 miles below Hickman Saturday night, Aug. 5, a new Belter Buggy, almost new. A top support on right hand side has been broken near the top, and a metal tip is missing from the end of one shaft.

The harness is also nearly new. The set had been taken up for a small horse, and buckle holes made with a knife. In the belly-band will be noticed two holes which have been torn together, looks like a knife had been inserted in one and cut through to the other.

REWARD OF $10.00 for return of buggy and harness. Property belonged to Robt. Tinsley. Notify Goulder Johnson Sheriff Hickman Ky.

Ky. State Notes.

Frankfort.—Farmers, truck gardeners and fruit growers in this state have been saved thousands of dollars by the rains. Commissioner of Agriculture Rankin has been getting information over the telephone and by letter that the rains came in time to save the last vestige of the crops this year. The loss from the drought has been greater than estimated, and it has not been confined to any section of the state.

The crop report of Commissioner Rankin for July shows the smallest percentage of crops ever known in this state, which gives another opportunity to say to the farmers that they will do well to adopt the shallow methods of cultivation so often recommended by his department. Such a method of cultivation he thinks would enable the crops to withstand the drought.

Compared with the crops of last year, the yields in percentages for the present harvest are: Wheat, 96 per cent; rye, 91 (which, because of the exceedingly good crop of last year, makes this year's production an average crop); oats, 67; alfalfa, 84; blue grass, 73; corn, 79; clover, 72; potatoes, 44; peaches, 49; apples, 59; hemp, 83; pastures, 61, and live stock, 91.

Alfalfa, being a deep-rooted plant, withstood the drought better than any other crop except wheat and rye, which latter two did not suffer much because of their maturity when the heat wave came on. Potatoes are practically a failure, showing less than half the crop of a year ago. The rains have been a blessing for corn, which may yield a three-fourths crop, which means a yield somewhere in the neighborhood of 95,000,000 bushels.

Old Building for an Armory.

After remaining unused for nearly two years the old executive building, in the old capitol square, is to be put to some use. The second floor of the building will be used as an armory and drill hall for the Frankfort company of the Kentucky national guard. The local company recently was mustered into service with fifty-seven men and the adjutant general decided that the old buildings which have been abandoned might as well be put to some use. The building is well adapted for armory purposes. There is a large room which will be used as a drill hall and two smaller rooms which will be used for lockers and for officers' meetings. The state and county together will put the rooms in condition and furnish them so that the local company will have one of the best armories of any company in the state outside of Louisville. Since the state officials moved their offices into the new capitol the old capitol has been deserted and the rooms used for nothing, not even for storage.

Must Dip Sheep.

The state live stock sanitray board issued an order covering all sheep entering Kentucky, and gives instruction that all sheep coming into this state from other states, unless for immediate slaughter, shall be dipped, either in the tobacco or nicotine dip or a lime or sulphur dip. The order also prescribes that when shipments of sheep originating in or in transit through the state, shall be found diseased, the cars, boats, vehicles, ward sheds, etc., that have contained the diseased sheep shall not be used until cleaned and disinfected. All sheep moved into the state or out of it must first be inspected by county live stock inspectors and their certificate of inspection must be placed to the waybill.

To Discuss Pellagra.

Following the discovery of 17 cases of pellagra in the Eastern Kentucky asylum for the insane, it was reported that upward of 100 cases have been found in Bell and Whitley counties. The state board of health has called a meeting for Corbin, Whitley county, on August 9, to discuss remedies, and it is likely that the government and the Rockefeller institute will be asked to send experts to the meeting.

Flags For Soldiers.

Samples of the flags which will be used officially by the state for the regiments of the National Guard of Kentucky have been received by the adjutant general and probably orders for the making of the company and regimental flags, which will cost $500, will be given. The best company in each regiment will have a flag and the best of the three regiments will have a regimental flag.

Police Court News.

At least two fellows don't approve of the way local officers here have of slapping a man on the hip pocket when it looks a little suspicious. E. J. England, of Dixon, while standing in front of the Gem in West Hickman, was slapped on the forehead by Policeman Hamby Saturday night and the innocent prank developed the fact that some one had dropped a little 22 calibre "owl head" pistol in his pocket. Judge Remely said the privilege of being a walking arsenal was worth $31.50, and England became a stockholder in the "civic improvement league."

Will Cason a Water Valley denizen had a similar experience with Sheriff Johnson. When Johnson stopped that tell-tale hip pocket, Cason thought he heard some one in the lower bottom calling him and bled out at 2:10 clip. He was followed by Johnson and Policeman Hackett. Cason's carburetor was not in the best of working order and was soon overtaken. He was relieved of a sweet little 32 owl head, and the Judge clipped another $31.50 coupon.

Ike Gilbert, Horace Ingram and Joe Ingram engaged in a free for all fight Sunday, and were fined $11.50 each. Ivy Hammons paid $11.50 for a breach of the peace.

Ed Totten and Bud Nichols, fighting, $11.50 each.

E. S. Briggs, violating local option law, fined $60 and costs, and failing to pay was placed in jail. He was picked up with 25 plants in his possession and had been looking after the thirsty carnival people.

Came To Naught.

E. F. Wheaton and two associates, of Henderson, Ky., were here last week trying to interest local capital in the building of an electric railway from Hickman to Paducah. A mass meeting was held at the Lyric Friday night to give the proposition a public hearing. His proposition was secure enough money from the towns interested to defray the expense of a commercial survey, costing $25,000. He wanted Hickman to put up $5,000. Should the survey prove that the route was a paying one, Mr. Wheaton promised to finance the deal for 2½ per cent of $1,750,000, the estimated cost of completing the line. If to the contrary, he was to get 15 per cent of the $5,000. But the bubble burst. There was no pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. All that remains of the magnificent system of the "Kentucky Southwestern Electric R. R." is the printed stock receipts which he half-finished in the bindery of the Courier job department.

In all seriousness, Hickman is not ready just now to undertake another big donation. We have put more than $30,000 behind the schemes of other men in the past 18 months, and we must—have a breathing spell.

Jap Admiral Seeing U. S.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Admiral Togo, the nation's guest, faced a strenuous program of engagements, but one in which he showed much interest. Receptions and banquets are not exactly inviting to the Japanese hero, most of whose 67 years have been spent on the quarter deck, but he was scheduled to inspect the United States Naval academy at Annapolis, which was more to his liking.

The admiral is to be shown everything possible connected with the navy during his brief visit to this country and almost a whole day will be spent at the Washington navy yard.

Inspects an Aeroplane.

On his morning automobile ride the admiral spied an amateur aviator fixing his aeroplane near Washington monument and expressed a desire to examine the machine. Captain Potts, U. S. N., was along, and together they observed the apparatus in its hangar, as the operator explained its mechanism.

We dined with Secretary of State Knox and attended a reception later at the National Press Club of Washington.

Reverently, with a brief invocation in Japanese, Count Togo placed a wreath of roses on the tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon.

A group of a dozen, among whom were the Japanese ambassador, Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop, five rear admirals of the United States navy and Chandler Hale, third assistant secretary of state, watched the diminutive admiral enter the mausoleum and stand silently at salute. He spoke softly, but audibly, for a moment, and then put down the wreath.

Emerging from the tomb, the solemnity of the occasion was broken by the admiral himself, who smiled as he saw confronting him a battery of cameras.

"That's the only way we'll ever shoot at you, I guess," remarked Rear Admiral Wainwright, amid laughter.

As the guest of the nation, Admiral Togo's trip from the city to Mount Vernon was made on the president's yacht, the Mayflower.

There is much speculation as to the nature of the reply President Taft will receive from the emperor of Japan to the announcement made by Taft to Admiral Togo, which was tantamount to an invitation to Japan to enter upon negotiations for a general arbitration treaty.

Mrs. A. M. Dollow was the recipient of a birthday dinner given by her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Helm, Monday evening, in her pretty home on Wellington street. The six-course menu was a triumph for the young housekeeper's skill. Around the table were seated eight of Mrs. Dollow's friends of her youth, whose coming together to celebrate such a peasant event was one long to be remembered. Mrs. Helm proved a hospitable hostess, and deserved the high appreciation of those present. At the close of the dinner, an appropriate toast, reminiscent of their girlhood days together was proposed by Mrs. Anberg. The guests were Mrs. Brevard, Mrs. Isler, Mrs. Helm, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Fuqua, Mrs. G. N. Helm and Mrs. Amberg.

Great Mistakes to Litter Up Hall
With Furniture—Have Only the Essentials.

In the hall that is scarcely larger than an entry very little furniture is possible, and then only the most essential, such as a settle or seat, a small stand, an umbrella jar and a mirror. Pictures will make the small hall seem even more contracted and should be avoided. In proportion as the hall space is larger pictures may be added, as well as more and larger furniture; a commodious table or "low-boy," with drawers for gloves, brushes, etc., will take the place of the small stand, while, before these necessary articles found accommodations in a settle whose seat lifted up—an excellent space-saving device.

A looking glass, however simple, is a greatly appreciated bit of furnishing, while a specially handsome glass does much to decorate the walls. A pottery umbrella jar of agreeable color and simple form is better than the old-time arrangement of umbrellas connected with the hat rack—Ladies' Home Journal.

Skirt Draperies.

In the introduction of new tunics outlines fashion goes a step further and even introduces drapery. Thus many of the models have a new and refreshing aspect.

Scarf draperies are particularly noticeable. One point of special interest among the many scarflike draperies for skirts is the application of the scarf in the form of a train. The train is in reality only a scarf suspended at one side of the robe.

Because of its narrow width and great length, provision is made for carrying the train. Thus, it is carelessly thrown over one arm, or is held by a loop through which one of the fingers may pass. It is not expected to trail out behind the skirt, but rather is a graceful accessory, adding charm to the movements of the wearer.

Silk and Satin Purses.

Some fascinating new shirred silk and satin purses have frames about as long as that of the ordinary bag and are hardly more than three inches deep. They are intended to carry in the hand and, small as they are, have compartments for various purposes. One style has two inner purses, each one of which takes up one-half the length of the whole purse, besides two outside pockets.

A New-Old Style.

The newest sashes have their long ends, or even the one end when there is but one, gathered into a plaque or a pliable beaded or embroidered motif as a finish. This is only a revival of the mode of the twelfth or thirteenth century, when the leather belt was finished at the end by being run through a buckle like the one which fastened it at the waist.

Ants Plague English District.

An extraordinary plague of ants is causing alarm in the Durbam, England, colliery village of Ryhope. One hundred and twenty miners' houses are infested with myriads of the pests, which swarm in the living rooms, causing serious discomfort and damage. The ants spread rapidly, and swarm about the cupboards and on the food in the houses. They are of a foreign species, and were brought to the village in consignments of Egyptian hay. The colliery owners have engaged experts to exterminate the pests. The infested houses are dealt with in turn, the ants being dug out in colonies and their nests destroyed.

The Courier's Weekly Sermon
by PASTOR RUSSELL
SUNDAY SUBJECT

THE ALL-SEEING EYE.

A Much Needed Lesson In an Unorthodox Setting.

BUT WHAT IS ORTHODOXY?

Pastor Russell Again Presents
Bible Teachings In a New Light.

Brooklyn, N. Y., August 4.—Notwithstanding the summer season Brooklyn, N. Y., was crowded today Pastor Russell took for his text the words of the Prophet David, "Whither shall I flee from Thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, Thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, Thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, Thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, Thou art there." Psalm cxxxix, 7, 8. We quote:

The Evolution theory and Higher Criticism of the Bible have today fostered unbelief to such an extent that everything intangible is doubted. Regarding with the college professor and the majority of the educated ministers this skepticism has embraced the wealthy, who are saturated with the blessings of prosperity. Their present attitude is one of doubt respecting everything connected with the Bible. They well know that outside the Bible there is nothing but guess work, and they prefer their own guesses to those of other people. Very many of them speak candidly and tell that they are agnostics, that they are uncertain and would like to be informed respecting the future. A very similar condition is growingly prevailing amongst the poorer classes and the uneducated.

The World's Need—a God.

The effect of all this loss of faith in an Almighty God is seen on every hand and is felt by many. One of the consequences is that the religious element of man's nature is becoming numb and the masses, rich and poor, are seeking a substitute in pleasure, as the Apostle's words foretold, they are "lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God." Additionally, many of the wealthy carry on a kind of blindfolded along commercial lines, desirous of imitating them, but unable so to do, others are filling the world with violence to an extent that is alarming to everybody. Were it not for our elaborate and costly police protection life and property would be far less secure in civilized lands than amongst the heathen. With all the protection afforded by telephone, telegraph, police, etc., our officials tell us that they are often bewildered in their attempts to preserve law and order.

Many learned men believe that there is no other God than nature, and many of the unlearned are following their lead. They reason that nature served

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother brought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mount St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.

New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. L. M. PEYRON, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

STEVE STAHR

them as both father and mother, that nature is pitiless, unsympathetic, cruel.

Thus faith in a god of nature and chance takes the place of faith in the God of the Bible, who dwells in heaven and whose intelligence and power extend throughout the Universe, in those words of which we are only availing—through electricity, radio activity, etc., besides angelic messengers that can come and go like the wind (Hebrews i, 7, 14).

But the undermining of faith in the God of the Bible has been accomplished largely by the misrepresentation by many clergymen and religious leaders of the Bible's teaching. Our text for instance, is supposed to teach that God is in heaven with the angels rejoicing with them and that He also is in hell with the unsalvaged, looking upon their sufferings and tortures and planning with devils for their everlasting continuance. Thinking such are the feelings of such a God, but alas, they are rejecting the Bible, too, having no foundation for a better, truer faith.

Is This View Unorthodox?

The word orthodox signifies "correct in doctrine." I admit that my presentation is not the ordinary one but I claim that it is correct—it is the true doctrine of the Word of God. Then it is orthodox in the highest sense of that term; and everything to the contrary being opposed to God's Word, must be unorthodox.

What Christendom needs today is a return to the Bible, an investigation of its teachings and a rejection of all human creeds, which are admittedly more or less defective. Let us accept the Bible as the only standard. The masses known as Christendom are unchristian in every sense of the word. They are civilized heathen. The fault lies largely with many of the clergy. It is time that all who really believe in the Bible, who believe that Jesus left the glory of the Father and gave His life, thus providing the redemptive price for all men should proclaim these facts clearly, positively. They should declare, as do the Scriptures, the Second Coming of the Redeemer and the establishment of His Kingdom in Divine Power for the putting down of sin and the lifting up of mankind to glorious privileges of restitution, with a just penalty against every form of sin, and the Second Death as the penalty for wilful, persistent disobedience.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Hickman Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out,
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Don't delay—use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is good evidence of their worth.

J. J. Owen, 113 E. North St., Mayfield, Ky., says: "I suffered severely from backache, particularly if I stooped, and at night I could not rest on account of the pain in my loins. I longed to get rid of the trouble, but was unable to do so until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. In a short time this remedy entirely relieved me of the annoying backache." (Statement given in July, 1903.)

CONFIRMED PROOF.

On May 14th 1907, Mr. Owen was interviewed and said: "What I stated through our Mayfield newspapers in the summer of 1903 about Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. During the four years which have since elapsed there has been no recurrence of my trouble and in view of this fact, I again highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other."

Fine Bottom Farm of 156 Acres
Well Improved, Already Stocked
For Only $35 an Acre....

Owner has other business opportunities and will sell this place at much less than it is worth. It can be had with buildings, stock, farming implements and poultry already on it.

Two residences on place, in only moderate repair, but two good barns, one 36 and the other 32 feet, with sheds on sides. Nice young bearing orchard, 50 bushels apples, plenty of plums, etc. 100 acres of the place in cultivation; produces 60 bushels corn, a bale of cotton per acre, also alfalfa, oats, wheat, potatoes and all other crops of this section. A fine stock farm, now stocked with registered hogs of three kinds, live stock and about 200 chickens, guineas, etc., which may be bought with place. All under good American wire fence, but outside is a range of 5,000 acres for stock. Three good wells and pumps on farm.

Land is next to river, but is being added to yearly by river deposits. No better soil under the sun. Place will stand any kind of investigation you may care to make.

This is an extremely low price, as low as any unimproved land, but absolutely nothing wrong with the farm or its title. Makes a good crop every year. If you want either a Fulton county farm or a good investment, it will pay you to buy this place.
